

THE JOHAN BERGH HISTORIA AWARD

The Historical Association of South Africa (HASA) invites Heads of Department to nominate their top third-year student for the Johan Bergh Historia Award. This award is in recognition of Prof. Johan Bergh, who was president of HASA for over two decades, and is in line with his on-going commitment to promote History at postgraduate level. The winners will receive a year's subscription to Historia and their names will be announced in the first issue of Historia in the subsequent year.

All departments of History at universities in South Africa offering postgraduate studies in History are eligible to participate. The selection of the winner is an internal decision by the respective department chairs and their colleagues. The names of the winners must be sent to the Secretariat of Historia by 1 December of each year.

The HASA executive board looks forward to showcasing our top History achievers in their third year of study, and trusts that this achievement will encourage them to pursue their study of History at postgraduate level.

DIE JOHAN BERGH HISTORIA TOEKENNING

Die Historiese Genootskap van Suid-Afrika (HGSA) nooi departementshoofde uit om hul top derdejaarstudent te benoem vir die Johan Bergh Historia toekenning. Hierdie toekenning is ter ere aan Prof. Johan Bergh, wat vir meer as twee dekades as die voorsitter van die HGSA gedien het, en is in ooreenstemming met sy deurlopende toewyding om Geskiedenis op nagraadse vlak te bevorder. Die wenners sal 'n jaar se intekening op Historia wen en hulle name sal in die eerste uitgawe van Historia in die daaropvolgende jaar gepubliseer word.

Geskiedenisdepartemente aan Suid-Afrikaanse universiteite wat Geskiedenis op nagraadse vlak aanbied, mag deelneem. Die aanwys van 'n wenner is 'n interne aangeleentheid wat deur die betrokke departementshoofde en hulle kollegas behartig moet word. Die name van die wenners moet gestuur word aan Historia se sekretariaat voor 1 Desember van enige gegewe jaar.

Die bestuur van die HGSA sien daarna uit om ons toppresterders in Geskiedenis in hulle derde jaar van studie te vier, en hoop hierdie toekenning sal hulle aanmoedig om hulle studies in Geskiedenis op nagraadse vlak voort te sit.

AUTHOR GUIDELINES

Historia, owned and published by the Historical Association of South Africa (HASA), appears twice annually in May and November. Copyright on Historia articles rests with the respective authors.

The journal is independent and refereed, accredited by the South African Department of Higher Education and Training and indexed by IBSS and IBZ and the SciELO Citation Index/Web of Knowledge (Thomson Reuters).

Historia is published on the Sabinet webpage <http://journals.sabinet.co.za/hist> and is also available as an open-access journal at <http://scielo.org.za> and at <https://upjournals.up.ac.za/index.php/historia> under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International license. Authors are invited to submit original, previously unpublished research on aspects of southern African history, methodology, and historiography, as well as reviews, review articles, and contributions to the Historia blog.

SUBMISSION OF ARTICLE MANUSCRIPTS

- Manuscripts should be in .doc and submitted electronically to the editor at historia.submissions@gmail.com.
- Authors must declare in writing that the article has not been published elsewhere or submitted to another journal for possible publication.
- Submissions should be edited for language usage and adhere to the Historia guidelines.
- Opinions expressed and conclusions drawn are those of the author/s and should under no circumstances be considered the opinions of the HASA, editorial board or the editors.
- No single-authored articles by the same author will be published in consecutive editions of Historia.
- Should any of the editors wish to publish in Historia, the full editorial discretion in respect of those submissions must be delegated to another editor.

REVIEW PROCESS

- All submissions are assessed on receipt before possible peer review.
- Articles that are plagiarised, poorly written, or do not adhere to the focus and guidelines of Historia will not be accepted for peer review.
- No correspondence will be entered into about submissions that have been turned down.
- Historia's reviewing process is 'double blind'. In the case of contradictory reports, the article will be sent to a third reader to act as arbiter.
- A minimum of three months should be allowed for the review process.

- When submissions are accepted provisionally, authors are expected to return their revised versions to the editor within eight weeks.
- Page proofs are always given to authors, who are responsible for checking them.
- Corrected page proofs are to be returned to the editor and the co-ordinating editor within seven days of receipt.

REVIEWS

Historia publishes reviews of books on the history of southern Africa. Reviews are usually solicited by the review editor, although unsolicited reviews will be considered, provided they adhere to our guidelines and fall within the focus of the journal. Reviews of books dealing with countries outside southern Africa should indicate the relevance of such books to historians of this region.

- All reviews are submitted to the editors and if necessary, to other referees before publication.
- Reviews should be in .doc form and be submitted to the review editor by the agreed deadline.
- If it is not possible to review the book within a timely fashion, the review copy should be returned to the review editor.
- The review should end with the name (without titles) and the institutional affiliation of the reviewer in italics. Independent scholars or reviewers without institutional affiliation should give their town or city of residence.
- Book reviews do not qualify for subsidy purposes by DOHET.
- Reviews should be between 1 000 and 1 500 words and may include bibliographic and other references, although these should be kept to a minimum.
- The same referencing system as for articles should be used.
- All quotations from the book under review must be followed by the exact page reference in brackets at the end of the quotation.
- Reviews are published with a short heading (six to eight words) indicating the tenor of the review. Where a reviewer does not include a heading, the review editor will provide one.
- The heading should be followed by the bibliographic data of the book under review, as in this example:

Martin Legassick, The Struggle for the Eastern Cape, 1800–1854: Subjugation and the Roots of South African Democracy.

Johannesburg, KMM Review Publishing Company, 2010

152 pp

ISBN 978-0-620-36610-9

R189.95 [or: Price unknown]

REVIEW ARTICLES

- A review article is longer and more detailed than a review. It should be 4 000 to 6 000 words and follow the usual technical requirements as for articles.
- A review article should place the book/s under review within historiographical context and should indicate the importance of the book/s to the wider field.
- Review articles are usually commissioned by the review editor, although unsolicited review articles may be considered for publication, at the discretion of the review editor.
- All review articles are anonymously peer reviewed by experts in the field, and may qualify for subsidy purposes by the Department of Higher Education and Training by those attached to South African institutions of higher learning.

PUBLICATION

- Authors will receive one copy of Historia free of charge.
- As Historia is accredited, the cost of articles to authors affiliated to South African universities can be recouped from the earnings of research outputs by means of page fees, and they will therefore be requested to subsidise their articles. Generally, the authors' institutions pay such page fees.

LAYOUT AND STYLE

- Manuscripts should preferably not exceed 8 000 words (footnotes excluded).
- Article text should be in 12 pt size font, footnotes should be in 11 pt size font, and 1.15 spacing throughout.
- The title of an article must preferably not exceed 15 words.
- The first footnote should be placed after the name of the author and marked by an asterisk. Include a brief résumé (no more than 60 words) of the author/s, stating their current position, institutional connection, most recent or forthcoming projects/publications. Authors may include an email address and ORCID iD.
- A short abstract (not exceeding 200 words) of the article in both English and Afrikaans (opsomming), as well as up to 10 keywords (sleutelwoorde) should accompany submitted articles for the purposes of categorisation. Scholars who are not proficient in Afrikaans will receive editorial assistance in the translation of the abstract and keywords.

Quotations	Should be indicated by single inverted commas, with double inverted commas for quotations within the main one. Quotations of more than 40 words must be indented on both sides, without inverted commas.
