Postgraduate Supervision: Future foci for the knowledge society
by M. Fourie-Malherbe, R. Albertyn, C. Aitchison &
E. Bitzer (Eds.) (2016)

The 24 chapters in this book move from deliberations on challenges for postgraduate supervision at macro level (such as the pressure to increase postgraduate output and the implications of increasingly managerialist institutions) to meso level matters (the form and function of postgraduate education in specific countries) to the micro level (rich case studies of individual institutions, programmes and supervisors). The publication provides very useful insights into multiple aspects of supervision and serves as a rich source in identifying future research possibilities and agendas in gearing up postgraduate education and supervision for the knowledge society.

Postgraduate Study in South Africa: Surviving and Succeeding by L. Frick, P. Motshoane, C. McMaster & C. Murphy (Eds.)
(2016)

The book explores concerns about the lack of higher education transformation around issues of equity, curriculum reform, language and race, and how students navigate higher education complexities. Students' self-reflective abilities, creativity and pragmatic approaches to surviving and succeeding are indicators that postgraduate student success is as much internally as externally determined. Each of the 20 chapters speaks from a uniquely South African perspective. The editors have tried to remain true to the voice of each contributor, while simultaneously providing a coherent body of scholarly work.
